

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN AND ABOUT TOWN

Happenings of the Day In Various Parts of the Nation's Capital.

There were a score of pitiful separations yesterday, and after hours of search by frantic parents, there were scores of joyful reunions.

More than twenty little children, boys and girls were lost in the crowds along the Avenue yesterday afternoon and last night. The tiny tots, however, knew enough to ask one of the big blue-coated policemen "Where is my mamma?"

In many cases the "cops" took the little children by the hand, and walking up and down on the street outside the ropes, were able to locate "papa and mamma" by the time they had gone a block.

Many other little ones, however, became excited when the prancing troops of cavalry or rumbling batteries of artillery passed them, and forgetting instructions given them before leaving home, slipped away from the father or mother, and before realizing it, were really and truly lost.

The policemen took the children to the precinct stations and there kept them until the parents arrived.

The police state that the "kiddies" were willing to make themselves very much at home until parents came, identified them and took the sleepy little boys and girls home.

ILL FROM EXPOSURE AFTER ARDUOUS DAY

Plucky Boy Scouts Break Under Strain and Cry When Vigil Ends.

Several local and visiting Boy Scouts are on the sick list today as the result of the exposure to which they were subjected yesterday afternoon.

Standing from early morning until 6 o'clock in the evening, many of them having eaten nothing since breakfast, the boys played a most arduous part in the policing of the crowd yesterday.

Suffered From Wind.

As the afternoon drew on toward evening and the cold wind began to sweep down Fifteenth street near the Treasury, the tears could be seen running down the red cheeks of the little fellows, but not a whimper could be heard. Scout masters begged that the boys be relieved from further duty, but the safety of the crowd demanded that the line held by the boys be held strong.

Not until the last man had turned the corner at Fifteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue did the boys leave their places. Then the courage and stubborn determination, which had held them to their places from early morning with no overcoats, in spite of the intense cold, gave way, and boys broke down and cried.

One little fellow, only ten years old, who had fought against the crowd all day long, holding onto his end of a long rope was so cold he could not talk. He could only stand there mutely, while the tears which he could not restrain rolled down from eyes irritated by the wind-blown sand.

Some of the spectators, clad in heavy overcoats and wraps laughed, but they did not know that that same little fellow who fought so bravely yesterday would today be confined to his bed while his mother fights the fear of pneumonia.

"Largest Credit Jewelers in the World"

50c A Week  50c A Week

Only $18

For a Pure White, Perfectly Cut Diamond, Full of Life and Fire. Set in 14-kt. Gold Mounting for Lady or Gentleman.

The ordinary jeweler cannot offer you such value as this for less than $25—more likely $30.

The reasons why we can undersell them to such an extent are perfectly plain and legitimate.

In buying for the immense volume of business of our 12 large stores we are virtually independent of the jobber and importer. The highest credit and the ability to pay cash for immense purchases, when this will mean a saving, enable us to go into the greatest markets independently and secure wonderfully low prices.

Come to us for Diamonds of any size or value and we will quote you the lowest prices that can possibly be offered for reliable qualities.

On $25 or less we ask you to pay only 50c a week, and proportionately easy terms will be arranged for all larger amounts.

At any time in the future we will allow you the full amount paid us for any Diamond if you wish to exchange it for a more valuable stone.
